

RUSS MINISTERS QUIT; RIOTING IS ON IN PETROGRAD

Resignation of Three Cabinet
Members Announced; A Fourth Reported Out.

UKRAINE DISPUTE CAUSE

Questions Involving Extensive Russian Territory Being About Disagreement; Demonstrations Against the Government Quickly Crushed Down.

By Associated Press.
PETROGRAD, July 17.—Three members of the cabinet have resigned and a special session of the council of ministers has been convened in an effort to avert a crisis. Their names are A. I. Singareff, minister of finance; Professor Mordukhai, minister of education; and Prince Shukovski, head of the department of public aid. The resignation of the ministers is attributed to a disagreement over a question involving the Ukraine, an extensive region in Russia, embracing part of the territory of the old kingdom of Poland. Premier Lvoff has requested the ministers to meet at his private residence, where the cause of the dispute will be considered.

LONDON, July 17.—A Reuters dispatch from Petrograd says M. Stepanoff, acting minister of commerce, also has resigned.

PRISONERS KILLED

IN DEMONSTRATIONS
PETROGRAD, July 17.—Two demonstrations against the government resulted in the firing of shots in the Mezsky Prospekt at midnight, as a result of which a number of prisoners were killed or wounded.

The firing apparently was the result of a strike which brought on a panic in which the demonstrators turned machine guns on each other. Quiet was restored in a few minutes. The demonstrations were organized by the Bolsheviks, the majority faction of the social democratic party.

RUSS MINISTERS MAY BE INDUCED TO CONTINUE

The Russian armies are continuing their vigorous offensive in Eastern Galicia and other groups of the empire's vast forces are ready to spring into activity at various points along the 800 mile front.

Everything appears to be running smoothly with the military machine, or at least it seems to far more effective state than even the roughest forecast indicated.

Meanwhile Russian governmental affairs, which appear to have been going well for some time past, are again ruffled with a cabinet disagreement. Four ministers have resigned because of objections to the policy decided on by others regarding affairs in the Ukraine, which, like Finland, has declared an independent government. A meeting of the council of ministers has been called to solve the crisis, and it is hoped the resignations will be withdrawn.

Notwithstanding the change in the German chancellorship and before any declaration of policy has been made by the occupant, Dr. George Michaelis, the Reichstag reveals existing conditions appear to be going on unchecked. The majority, in favor of a declaration of peace terms, it is declared, will present their resolutions on Thursday, the day the new chancellor is scheduled to speak, and will demand that he accept the declaration in principle before they agree to cooperate with him.

On the western front as a result of an attack last night, all the positions west of Hill 201, which remained in German hands after the attacks of June 29 and 30, were recovered. German prisoners to a number not yet ascertained by the French were taken in the attack. In the Champagne, the Germans made another attack last night in an attempt to take their lost observation positions at the Tonnin heights.

BRITISH DESTROYERS TAKE FOUR GERMAN STEAMERS

All six made for the coast, and two of them reached the shore. These two were damaged by gunfire.

CIVIL SERVICE BOARD TO EXAMINE POLICE APPLICANTS NAMED

Council Also Fixes Salaries of Police and Firemen in 30-Minute Session.

In the shortest meeting held for a long time, city council last night definitely approved the $10 a month raise for police and firemen, decided upon at a committee meeting Saturday, and appointed a civil service board consisting of P. R. Yoder, Dr. J. L. Cochran and P. J. Harrigan, to examine future applicants for positions on the police force and in the fire department.

Ordinance to be over until next meeting were introduced to cover each of these matters. The police are to get $85 a month instead of $75, as formerly, and the firemen $80 instead of $70. The increase dates back to July 1, and continues for six months, or the remainder of the year. Under the same terms, the assistant chief, W. B. Dowers, will get $90 a month, he formerly got $85.

The civil service board contains three members, an educator, a doctor and a layman. Principal Yoder of the Seventh ward school was appointed for one year, Dr. Cochran for two and Mr. Harrigan for three. Members in the future will be elected for three years each.

Council met promptly, and City Clerk A. O. Bivler called the roll at 7 o'clock sharp. At exactly 7:08, a motion to adjourn, sine die, was passed. Councilman John Duggan had said, "Let's cut out the trills and get through," or words to that effect, and there was absolutely no business transacted except that of introducing the two ordinances. All were present except Councilman J. H. Guyan.

NORTON SENT TO JAIL

Sentenced to Not Less Than 18 Months, in Penitentiary.

John W. Norton, formerly chief clerk of the W. J. Runney offices in Uniontown, arrested for embezzling company money, was sentenced to not less than 18 months nor more than three years in the Western Penitentiary at Uniontown this morning. Norton entered a plea of guilty, and disclosed the fact that he had taken $5,200 instead of $1,162, the theft of which amount caused his arrest.

Petitions were presented for his parole and many eloquent pleas made before the court. Judge Van Swearingen said: "Judge Reppert and I are of one mind. Our duty is to the best interest of the community and the state generally. This man's conduct has been bad since he reached Uniontown. He has had no consideration for his wife and children until this trouble came up."

CROWDER HOPES TO MAKE DRAWINGS BY SATURDAY AT LATEST

All But 10 States Have Reported "Ready For Draft" to Washington.

CONFER ON THE DETAILS

Provost Marshal Goes Over Plans for Lottery. Finally, With Secretary
Baker's Single District's Failure to Finish Work Can Hold Up Country.

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, July 17.—With only 10 states remaining to be heard from on the organization of local exemption boards, and with the serial number lists of registrants from all but 648 of the 4,599 exemption districts on file in Washington, Provost Marshal General Crowder was hopeful to complete the preliminary staging of the war army drawing would be completed in 18 hours. He prepared to take up with Secretary Baker later in the day details of the lottery process for final approval.

If there is an unexpected delay, it seems likely that the drawings, can be held Friday or Saturday. A single district which fails to finish its preliminary work on time, however, can hold up action indefinitely.

Once past the drawing stage, General Crowder pointed out today, the necessity for concerted action by the states common and the examination of registrants and their assignments to the army or exemption can proceed in any state without regard to progress made in any other community.

The 10 states not having completed their preparations for the drawing are Alabama, Illinois, New York, Michigan, Mississippi, Missouri, Kentucky, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Virginia. The group includes the states having the largest population and probably the largest total population of all 10 represent somewhere near half of the population of the entire country.

MILL'S FURNACE SUPERINTENDENT ARRIVES IN TOWN

Electric Steel Company to Begin Operation Within a Month.

Within nearly a month the mill of the United States Electric Steel Company will be ready for operation, as it is expected to have the furnaces and all electrical connection completed by that time. Furnace Superintendent Marsh, who will have charge of the furnaces at the new factory, arrived here yesterday and will take immediate charge.

The foundations for the furnaces are completed and the work of setting them will go right ahead. The whole plant will be ready to run as soon as electrical connections are finished. The building itself is under roof, and interior work is now being done.

The iron work for the furnaces, being done by the Connellsville Iron works of the West Side, is about completed and will be placed immediately after it is delivered.

At present there are between 40 and 45 men working at the plant, both skilled and common laborers. The steel company does not expect to experience any difficulty in getting the labor required to operate the mill. More trouble in getting common labor than in hiring skilled employees is expected.

The mill, although with the starting point already in sight, is not yet according to orders. Some have been offered but all far have been refused. Enough work can be recruited after the mill starts, and there will be no piling up contracts on the waiting list before the mill is running smoothly.

Robert Lock, of Apollo, will be the superintendent of the factory. He is not here permanently as yet, but has been making periodical visits to the plant.

EXEMPTION BOARDS OF FAYETTE COUNTY READY FOR DRAFT

Fourth District Men, Appointed
Late, Have Completed Their Work.

VALID RELEASE CLAIMS

10 Reasons Listed by Government as Good for Exemption From Service
Received by Local Boards; "Don't Delay," is Advice to Men Drafted.

According to advice of officials of registration boards of Fayette, the draft numbers will be laid out on Saturday, all indications pointing to the holding of the drawing in Washington on that day. A number of boards throughout the county have not yet completed their work, but, according to the instructions and notices received here, the Washington authorities are prepared to do the drawing on the instant the word comes that every zone is organized.

Fayette county is ready. Quick work by the exemption board of the Fourth district prevented the county from being late in reporting its readiness. Within a few hours after Dr. E. R. Ingraham of Martinsburg, Albert B. Mayer of Point Marion and A. L. Stevenson of New Geneva, received word of their appointment by Governor Brumbaugh, they had begun work listing the 3,122 eligibles in their district. The work was completed between Friday and Sunday, and on the latter day, Sheriff T. L. Howard telegraphed Governor Brumbaugh that Fayette was ready for the drawing.

The other boards had practically completed their work before this Fourth district board was named. It being appointed to succeed a board whose members declined to serve.

Official instructions for the examination of draft eligibles claiming exemption from service were received yesterday by H. M. McDonald of Dawson, chairman of the local exemption board, and the members of the six other boards of the county. Contained in the instructions are 10 reasons which will be recognized by the boards as valid claims for release from liability to service.

These 10 valid claims, as had been previously announced, will exclude from service these classes: Legislative, executive or judicial officers of nation or state, county and municipal officers, customs-house clerks, those in employ of the nation in transmission of mails, workmen in arsenals and navy yards of the nation, and other employees of the government, under certain conditions; ministers and theological students, and members of religious sects whose doctrines forbid war; those already serving in army or navy; subjects of Germany and allies who have not taken out first papers; licensed pilots and mariners actually employed; married men with dependent wives or children; men with dependent aged or infirm parents, fathers of motherless children under 16 and dependent upon them, and brothers of orphan children under 16 and dependent upon them.

Whatever a man's claim for exemption may be, even though he may know before hand that his case is absolute, he is required to present himself to the local board and have his serial number drawn and go through the formal process stipulated by the regulations before he receives his discharge from liability.

These claims are the only grounds for exemption or discharge by a local board. The claim can be filed by the person who seeks exemption, or by another in his behalf—wife, mother, employer—and the truth of the statement must be attested to by affidavit by at least one other person of standing in the community, who is not a relative. Names are urged to make exemption claims for their husbands, who might not want to ask for discharge in spite of having dependents.

The advice is repeated again and again that the men drawn should present himself at headquarters immediately after he has seen his number in the papers. He should not wait for notice by mail.

NAMES OF ELIGIBLES TO BE ARRANGED ALPHABETICALLY

Acting upon instructions from Washington, and in deference to an almost universal demand, the local exemption boards will re-arrange the lists of conscription eligibles in alphabetical order.

The numbers will not be changed but the order of arrangement of the names will be. Instead of the numbers appearing consecutively as the lists were first prepared, the names will be listed alphabetically, preceded by the serial number. Under the new arrangement it will require but a moment to locate a name whereas it is now necessary to begin at the first name and read through the list in order to identify a name with a given number.

RIFLE CLUB TEAMS CONDUCTING THEIR CANVASS FOR FUND

Workers Out Today Getting Subscriptions for Company D and Hospital Corps.

The Company D and Hospital Corps fund is making steady progress. The six teams appointed by the Connellsville Rifle Club are quietly conducting a canvass of the city and are meeting with gratifying success. There is general response to the appeal to provide for the comfort of our local soldier boys and the contributions to the fund are being made in fine spirit. There is no effort being made to secure large subscriptions, and the amount any one may give is not being indicated. The object is rather to have as many persons join in the movement as possible so that the fund will form a community testimonial to the two organizations which are soon to go out from us.

As at present arranged, the Rifle Club teams will make no public reports until their work is completed on Friday. At a meeting of the club in the armory on that evening the reports will be received and the campaign brought to a close.

With the fund now closely approaching $1,200 it is expected that it will reach $2,000 by Friday night. A number of agencies outside of the Rifle Club teams are understood to be planning for contributions both in Connellsville and at other points having representation in either Company D or the Hospital Corps.

The campaign for the fund in Uniontown will close tonight. Later contributions from that section can be sent to Captain Norton or to The Courier.

Contributions to date as follows:

Previously Acknowledged by
The Courier and Captain
Morton
F. N. DeMueh $75.00
Harry Dunn 5.00
Unlabeled 5.00

Total Subscriptions $350.00
Aggregate to Now Today $1,135.00

The value and usefulness of a Company Fund in a military organization in service is appreciated by no one more than those who have been through the drill. In sending his contribution to Captain Morton, P. W. Hetzel, a former first lieutenant of Company D, and now in business at Conaway, Pa., expressed his pleasure at the opportunity afforded and said:

"I sincerely hope you are lucky enough to raise two or three times $1,000.00, for it will not come amiss. With best wishes to yourself, officers and the men of Company D, I beg to remain,

"Yours very truly,
"T. W. Hetzel."

A HARKINS ALWAYS IN CO.

E. SINCE ORGANIZATION.
During the 32 years that Company E, Tenth Regiment, of Mount Pleasant, has been in existence, its members have never gone out of town on any duty without either Major James S. Harkins, now corner of Westmoreland county or one of his sons being among them.

Major Harkins joined the company when it was organized, 32 years ago. He served 25 years in its ranks, 21 of them as a commissioned officer. While the major was seeing service in the Philippines, his son, James, was born. His oldest son, Lewis, was a member of Company D, and James went to the border with the command. When Company E is mustered into the federal service for duty in the war against Germany, James Harkins will be in the ranks.

River Rises.
The Yough river rose during the night from 3.25 feet to 3.65 feet.

PHYSICAL TESTS OF COMPANY D MEN WELL UNDER WAY

Rejections Likely to Follow
Rigid Examination By Lieut. Rhodes.

MUSTERING OFFICER READY

Men Will Be Taken Into Federal Service as Soon as Examining Officer is Through, Probably on Thursday;
Patterson Reports, One to Come.

Examination of the members of Company D is now in full swing and probably by some time tomorrow afternoon the entire command will have been gone over by Lieutenant L. K. Rhodes, the medical examining officer. The guards will be mustered into federal service immediately after the examinations have been completed.

The hospital corps were finished up first yesterday, the last man passing the test shortly after noon. The members of the corps will not assist in the work of examining the company. Two of the 33 members who did not pass the first examination successfully were held back for re-examination.

The company men fell in line immediately back of the hospital corps and the examinations of the men continued throughout the afternoon. Lieutenant Rhodes finished his last man about 6 o'clock. After that hour the light gets weak and a fair test for the eyes cannot be given. Out of the 35 company men examined, two were held over. They will be given another chance.

Members rejected for physical defects will receive certificates to that effect and they will receive pay dating from the date of mobilization to time of discharge. If they did not register under the conscription law on June 5, as they were not obliged to do while in the service of the National Guard, they will not be required to report for that duty.

No more additions to the company to fill the vacancies now existing will be made until after the examinations are completed and the guard mustered into federal service. One more application for enlistment was made at the armory last evening, a former member of the guards applying to Captain R. S. Morton. The commander now has a good sized waiting list and is certain to leave here with full war strength.

Such vacancies as may occur through failure of men to pass the physical examination will be filled from the lists of applications Captain Morton has received. These enlistments will be directly into the federal service and not into the guard service as were the enlistments of the present members of the company.

Among the applicants for enlistment in the company are some married men who have previously served in the National Guard. If they procure an affidavit from their wives setting forth the fact that they are capable of supporting themselves independent of their husbands they can be enlisted if physically qualified.

Guards have been posted around the tents and at the door to the armory. No visitors are being permitted to enter, as their presence would interfere with the work of the company. All persons entering the armory are stopped and asked their business before being permitted to pass.

South Side residents are getting a slight idea of what a great encampment of soldiers must be like. In the darkness the guards on the tent grounds, silhouetted against the city lights and tent tops, of which there are 11, create a military air.

Drills are held every morning and afternoon by both the company and hospital corps. These drills are lengthened into hikes, which will grow longer each day. One night encampment in the hills is planned.

Private Patterson, who was detained as a witness in a Clarkeburg case, reported last evening. Privates Pecosh and Patrecca reported yesterday afternoon. There is still one to report.

At present there are more than 200 soldiers in this city. With officers and men, there are 153 in Company D and the hospital corps brings the total to 190. With 30 members of Company B, Third regiment of Pennsylvania infantry, under guard duty on the railroad bridges, there are 220 troops quartered here.

The company and hospital corps will be mustered into federal service perhaps tomorrow. The mustering officer, Lieutenant C. S. Doney, U. S. A., is ready to go to work as soon as the examination of the men is completed. Mustering the company into federal service requires the going over and signing by him all the enlistment papers of the guards.

One advantage gained by examining the men for federal service and also mustering them into service at their home armories before they go to the divisional mobilization camp is that more attention and time can be given to the condition of each man. At the divisional camp the officers are always calling on the doctors to hurry things up and a thorough test cannot be made. Here however, more time is given each man. Lieutenant Rhodes is examining 10 men per hour.

At noon today he had examined 100 men. At this rate it will be possible to muster the men into federal service at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

Angle will give a lawn party Thursday evening at her home, 1000 North Main street, on the Mount Pleasant road for Troop 1 Boy Scouts, in an effort to raise money for a fund to buy musical instruments for a boy scout drum corps. Those who have started sets are also requested to bring their work with them, and all who wish to take up the work are invited. If they are not familiar with quilting there will be women present who will gladly aid them in the work.

Members of the Business Women's Christian association met last night at the Federal building and made operating sheets and night shirts for the Red Cross. ## SENATE COMMITTEE PASSES AIRCRAFT BILL.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Another record in considering the $640,000,000 aviation program bill which was passed last Saturday by the House in five hours, was made today when the Senate military committee in a 45-minute session unanimously ordered a favorable report without an amendment in order that the appropriation may become available as soon as possible.

WANT BOARD OF FOOD CONTROLLERS, NOT ONE MAN.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Senate leaders today virtually concluded their task of drafting compromise amendments to the administration's food control bill and debate was continued with the prospect of voting late today or tomorrow.

The compromise agreement, the Democrats and Republicans who have been working together believe, will command support from a majority of Senate.

Creation of a board of food administrators in lieu of a single individual, composed of three members directly under the President's control, is the principal change to be proposed by the leaders. Other important changes agreed on today at the bi-partisan conference were for fixing by Congress of a minimum price of $1.75 per bushel for wheat, and extension of the government's licensing and food purchasing power in the bill.

It previously had been agreed to limit government control to food, feed, and fuel, including gasoline and kerosene.

When Marriage is a Failure.

Surely marriage is a failure when its essential purpose, the raising of a family of children, proves impossible, in the childless home the married pair, though sometimes more or less unconscious of the fact, grow disappointed and lonely. Lacking the best aid to hold them together they are likely to drift apart, hence many separations and divorces.

If every wife whose physical state prevents motherhood, would but try that great remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, there would be far fewer childless homes.

VARIED USES THAT MAY BE MADE OF TOPOGRAPHIC MAPS

To Large Extent They Have Become a Necessity to Many.

HAVE SAVED MUCH MONEY

In Engineering Projects, Travelling, Lumbering, Forestry Work, Prospecting, Reclamation Service and Other Purposes No Limit to Uses.

It has been said that many of the battles of the Civil war would have been fought had there been topographic maps. For if those in command could have studied a topographic map of the country about them they would never have subjected their men to such marches as were made and then have expected the men to fight. But topography in the general sense and as it is shown today on the maps made by the United States Geological Survey was little known in the sixties. The Engineers Corps of the Army was highly efficient, but the topographic engineer did not appear in the American army until August 5, 1861, when an act of congress authorized the enlistment of one company of topographic engineers. This company was afterward merged into the Corps of Engineers.

Today within the wide boundaries of our country, which embraces more than three million square miles, there are a hundred million people. They live on farms, in villages and in towns and cities. Their dwelling places may be separated by broad rivers and rugged mountains, but the use of the topographic map is gradually knitting them systematically together, and at any time that this widespread population may be required to move in concerted action for a common cause the topographic map will give the leaders a comprehensive view of the geographic relations, so that the problem of moving can be solved more quickly and with good judgment. The topographic map, like the telephone and the typewriter, has become a necessity, and we wonder now how we have ever done without it.

The "man in the street" may have thought little of the value of the work of the topographic engineer, and to him and others who have not considered the importance of that work some illustrations of its value might be interesting.

A well-known author, soldier and topographic engineer found the topographic maps of the Geological Survey indispensable in every branch of his work. By studying a country before going into it he became so familiar with the details of many interesting features of which the natives had never heard that his stories acquired a realism that could not have been infused into them had he dwelt in the country a lifetime.

A party of Obionians who expected to make a winter trip by automobile to California consulted the topographic maps of the Survey and planned their itinerary for the trip with the most satisfactory and economical results. Reading from the maps that they would travel at high altitudes and would consequently encounter low temperatures, they made detailed provision to meet every emergency. They selected roads that followed the longest levels, thereby saving "trouble" and gasoline, not to mention racking delays.

Again the topographic map was consulted by a New York business man who wanted to hunt bear and big game in the wilds of New Mexico, and who thus arranged his plans, with the aid of some correspondence, at a distance of over 2,000 miles. The arrangements included even the details of the expenses necessary for a pack train for transporting his party and supplies into a country where his nearest postmaster to some points is 45 miles distant.

The forester depends on the government topographic map to find trails whereby his "fire guards" may reach their "lookouts" in the season when lightning sets fire to the highly inflammable pine and causes immense monetary losses to the government. With the map also he lays out his telephone lines and draws his permits for leases to the cattlemen.

A lumberman of New Mexico saved several hundred dollars by purchasing a 10-cent map of the country in his vicinity and using it to check up the areas he held under lease. The copper miner and the owner of a turquoise mine made fresh discoveries by studying a 10-cent topographic map issued by the Geological Survey.

The War department saved much time and expense by using a survey map when those in charge of the government hospital for tuberculosis in the Southwest desired to enlarge the water supply. The use of the detailed topographic map was absolutely necessary in determining the limits of drainage area. In deciding what properties to purchase in order to include the best and strongest springs, and in locating sites for dams and reservoirs, this work, done by a trained topographer with the methods now employed by the Geological Survey, required the cost very materially.

Fifteen cents spent by a reclamation engineer in 1902-10 in connection with a private engineering project saved his company $3,000 and established a project which would never have seemed possible had not the three topographic maps he purchased given him a comprehensive view of several hundred square miles of very flat country in Wisconsin, where the drainage problems are most intricate and delicate.

These are but a few concrete illustrations of the uses of the Geological Survey's maps. Today topography is being taught in the schools, and the coming generation will more fully appreciate the many values of such maps. It is most unusual to hear the grapher—the girl for its advantages in collecting the most desirable botanical expedition and the boy in planning his "war game" with his fellow cadet. There is no limit to the possible uses of the government's topographic maps.

GERMAN PEOPLE FAVOR JOACHIM.

THE YOUNGEST SON OF THE KAISER

In 1913 gossip in Cairo credited Prince Joachim with having lost his heart to an American girl, Miss Olive Huntington, whom he met while touring in Egypt. It is true that the prince, who shared his elder brother's taste for witty and pretty American girls, showed a pronounced liking for the company of Miss Huntington, but it was vigorously denied that there was anything more in it. Miss Huntington was touring with other pupils of the Willard school in Berlin.

To abdicate in favor of Joachim (No. 1 in the pictures) Emperor Wilhelm (No. 2 in the pictures) would have to pass over not only Crown Prince William (No. 3), but also the four other sons, Eitel, Adalbert, August and Oscar.

COAL PRODUCTION OF PENNSYLVANIA GAINED HEAVILY

Output in 1916 10,006,238 Tons Greater Than in the Previous Year.

FATALITIES WERE 1,001

A Record Which Was Very Disappointing in View of Extraordinary Efforts to Reduce Mining Accidents; Effects of Increased Mining Costs.

The annual report of James B. Roderick, chief of the Department of Mines shows that while the war may have something to do with the extra dollars that the consumers had to pay in 1916 for their coal, lack of production of the mines certainly could not be blamed.

There were 256,804,012 net tons turned out in the mines of the state, an increase of 10,006,238 tons over 1915. The number of persons employed in and about the mines was 333,473. Of the total tonnage the bituminous production was 169,123,314 tons, an increase of 11,503,246 tons over 1915. The number of employees of the soft coal mines was 174,204. The anthracite tonnage was 87,680,703, a decrease of 1,607,189 tons in a year. The number of mine employees in the anthracite region was 159,169. The bituminous record was exceeded only in 1915, but the anthracite record was below that of 1913, 1914 and 1915.

Chief Roderick in a synopsis of his report points out:

"The total number of fatal accidents during the year was 1,001, and non-fatal 3,316; total, 4,317. In the bituminous region there were 436 fatal and 1,350 non-fatal in 1915, and 413 fatal and 963 non-fatal in 1916. In the anthracite region there were 565 fatal accidents and 1,519 non-fatal; total 2,084, as compared with 683 fatal and 995 non-fatal in 1915, and 690 fatal and 1,038 non-fatal in 1914.

"The number of fatalities per 1,000 employees was 2.50 in the bituminous region, as compared with 2.35 in 1915, and 2.11 in 1914. In the anthracite region the number was 3.55, as compared with 3.32 in 1915, and 3.32 in 1914. In the bituminous region the production per life lost was 387,300 tons, as compared with 356,161 tons in 1915, and 353,231 tons in 1914. In the anthracite region the production per life lost was 155,195 tons, as compared with 162,000 tons in 1915 and 151,932 tons in 1914. The fatalities in 1915 and 1916 were about 10 per cent greater per 1,000 employees than in 1914.

"The record for the year is disappointing in view of the great efforts that have been made to reduce fatalities. The number of mine inspectors under the supervision of the Department of Mines has been increased and additional inspectors have been made by representatives of the insurance companies. It is also a fact that the compensation law that went into effect the 1st of January made the operators realize the need of more careful operation of the mines in order to keep as low as possible the cost of compensation.

"The fatalities among bituminous employees caused 276 widows and 638 orphans and among anthracite employees 373 widows and 874 orphans.

The coke production amounted to 25,423,326 tons, exceeding by almost 1,000,000 tons the great production of 1915.

"The production of both coal and coke has steadily increased since 1899, when the bituminous output was 73,066,613 tons, which shows an increase of 131 per cent; anthracite 50,518,331 tons, an increase of 45 per cent, and coke, 12,182,570 tons, an increase of 117 per cent.

"The year was notable for the advent of colored workmen in great numbers. In the Pittsburgh region, particularly, many thousands of negroes from the South have been employed. All operators found it difficult to obtain sufficient labor to operate the mines. The old employees felt the lure of the greater wages offered by the munition plants and other manufacturing concerns. The mine employees are now receiving greater pay than ever before.

"Labor troubles in various parts of the coal fields also added to the anxiety of the operators and rendered more difficult the keeping of contracts. The strikes that occurred throughout the year, although individually rather unimportant, had cumulative effect great enough to reduce the output probably 3,000,000 tons.

"In many instances a heavy strain was placed upon the producers, but those who were properly equipped with mining facilities and not obliged by previous contracts at moderate prices reaped a golden harvest. A great disparity in prices is shown between the operators, who were at the time under contract at low prices and those who, not being tied up, were able to avail themselves of the exceptional conditions of the trade.

"The present high prices may be expected to continue for some time in the future, although there will no doubt be a gradual reduction to a more reasonable basis. Coal, however, may never be as cheap again as it has been at times during the last four or five years."

At the Theatres

THE PARAMOUNT.

"THE PUNCH HITTER"—A live part Triangle feature in which Charles Ray, the Triangle star, is seen in the leading role, is today's principal attraction. "The Punch Hitter" is a comedy of character and it is written to suit the part in which Charles Ray is seen at his best. He plays the role of a timid country boy, who has been so completely dominated by his widower father, a hard grained old farmer, that he is almost wholly lacking in self-assertion. When he is sent to school, boob written all over him, without a cent of money, his bills being paid by the old man, he is the most hopeless and helpless creature imaginable of his age and sex. The story is well constructed and very human. The boob is almost constantly funny, though pitiful from some points of view, and he improves but slowly under the influence of a plucky little girl, who runs a cake shop. Tomorrow Olive Thomas, supported by Charles Cullen, will be seen in "Mystery Stage," a five part Triangle feature of exceptional interest.

SOISSON THEATRE.

Without a doubt the Soisson patrons have a real treat in store this week. Mrs. Robbins has spared no expense in selecting the vaudeville bill and at their performances yesterday the whole show kept the audiences in an uproar. Billy K. Meyers and his Roseland Maids started the show off with a punch, introducing the latest songs and dances. The work of Donnard and Meyers is the role of two happy-go-lucky tramps. Miss Donnard, the leading lady, is an attractive young girl and has an abundance of personality that makes her a favorite. On the whole the Roseland Maids is a clean refined musical comedy company. DeMaio is a wonder in "The Dragon." This act is set with special scenery and beautiful light effects. Closing the bill is the Bandier-La Volle Trio, sensational cycling experts.

ORPHEUM THEATRE.

"WOMANHOOD, THE GLORY OF THE NATION"—The official recruiting picture for the United States army, was shown to three fair sized audiences at the Orpheum yesterday. Kiferle's eight-piece symphony orchestra played the full synchronized musical score and the picture was presented in a most elaborate manner and in a more complete and comprehensive fashion than any of the other feature pictures. The actual war conditions in Europe are visualized and the spectators for the first time are permitted to see the new machines of destruction used in modern warfare. Many of the battle scenes are bonafide photographs of the conflict now raging in Northern France and the size of the mammoth guns and the immensity of the battle fields was a surprise. The object of the picture is to demonstrate that the spirit of freedom is unconquerable, and that the United States will push the war to a rapid conclusion once the people awake to their danger. The picture will be repeated today and tomorrow with three performances daily. On Wednesday morning a children's matinee will be given at which the soldiers in uniform will be admitted free.

THE ARCADE.

Jack Corbett's Dream Girls opened their second week's engagement at the Arcade yesterday to a big house and held up the reputation of the past week. They presented the musical comedy, "The Isle of Trouble," one of those good, clean, wholesome comedies that is full of laughter and drives away the blues. It has been produced by Mr. Corbett with only one object in view and that is to please and amuse Mr. Corbett's song, "I'm Coming Back Some Day in You," was written by Mr. Corbett, both words and music. An added attraction was Felix Burman, "The Hoosier Doctor," who told some funny stories in Hoosier dialect. Polliano was greeted by rounds of applause. The chorus is full of vim and puts lots of life into the show. The screen show features Frank Daniels in "A Day in a Plumber's Life." The performance will be repeated today and the program changed tomorrow.

NOT A SLIP—NOT A MISS—THE RAILROAD'S WAR RECORD.

"So far as I know the railroads in this country afford the only instance where the owners of private property have voluntarily subordinated their personal interests to the requirements of the nation for the period of the war. Others may be willing to do so, others may intend to do so, but so far as I know the railroads up to the present time are the only ones."

DANIEL WILLARD.

The railroads of the United States have met every emergency since the declaration of war, according to Daniel Willard, chairman of the Committee on Transportation of the Council of National Defense. The railroads have to their credit, through co-operation with the War Board, the following achievements:

The 683 companies operating in forty-eight States and controlling 249,000 miles of road have been practically nationalized and are working as one system.

They have made all transfer of troops on schedule, without interfering with civil traffic, to the entire satisfaction of the War Department.

They are handling at the same time, without congestion, more than 3,000,000 more ton miles a month than a year ago, or an increase of sixteen per cent.

They have successfully handled the added traffic thrown on them by the withdrawal on account of the war of many lake and seacoast vessels.

In spite of this increased business they have decreased the general car shortage one-third since May 1. They have increased the present supply of cars by 770,000 through better loading, quicker repairs, quicker handling, by pooling shipments at lake and seaports, thus releasing cars immediately, and by utilizing box cars that formerly were sent to the coast empty.

They have given preference to coal shipments, particularly for the government and its allies.

Twenty-one per cent more bituminous coal was handled in April this year than in the same month of 1916.

Second preference has been given to ore shipments, which also have increased enormously.

The grain situation also has been greatly improved. There is no grain being held at any point because of a car shortage.

Arrangements are being perfected so that the entire domestic fruit crop also will be handled satisfactorily. To further this efforts are being made to supply cars where needed by transferring empty cars from one section to another regardless of ownership.

All passenger trains not absolutely necessary are being removed from the service.

In short, the railroads are meeting all needs of the government, at least as promptly and efficiently as if they were under direct government authority.

This gives every candidate an ABSOLUTELY EVEN CHANCE.

The Contest opens Saturday, July 14th and closes July 30th, 1917.

This is a Boy's Bicycle and only boys can be candidates. Come to The Courier office for instructions and Subscription Blanks and you can also see the best Bicycle ever brought to Connellsville—The Ranger Motorbike with electric light and hand horn.

DISCRIPTION FOLLOWS:

THE RANGER SUPERBE "MOTOR-BIKE" MODEL, has a special sloping motorcycle frame with re-enforcing top bar, which gives the rider a very low riding position, similar to that found on a motorcycle. The front fork has been re-enforced by a double cross, reaching from the front wheel axle to the steering head of bicycle and braced at the fork crown. In place of a tool bar, we equip this model with a steel tool box fastened between the slanting top bar and the supporting lower bar of the frame. This tool box has a hinged door on the right-hand side which, when opened, gives the rider ample storage space for tools, etc. The "tool box" looks exactly like a gasoline tank on a motorcycle and instantly "takes" with riders who are anxious to have their bicycles resemble a motorcycle.

To add the last details of completeness to a model that already leads the world for style and new features—we are fitting all new Ranger Superbe Motorbike models with a complete electric lighting outfit and a new $1.50 Hand Horn, regular automobile style, but so beautifully and compactly built that it weighs only a trifle over one pound. We call it the "Catamount" Horn, and it "sounds" like a 12-cylinder roadster coming down the road at 60 miles an hour.

The high grade $2.00 ELECTRIC HEAD LIGHT takes with it a special new clamp that enables the rider to mount it on front of mud guard, over front wheel or (optionally), on handle bar. The battery case is mounted on top bar like a gas tank, and the "on-and-off" switch is easily accessible to rider.

The latest improved MOTORBIKE HANDLE BAR has new style cross brace in center, and is fitted to new special forged, long forward extension stem in which it is gripped securely by milled teeth. To the bar we fit the long, flexible SUPERBE (spring steel, re-enforced) RUBBER MOTORBIKE GRIPS.

Genuine "MOTORBIKE" RUBBER PEDALS, "ARISTOCRAT" SADDLE, BRAMPTON ROLLER CHAIN, SUPERBE leatherweight steel MUD GUARDS and patent leather detachable SPLASHER are also regular equipment on this model. In all other respects, it is genuine "Superbe" quality throughout, as explained in the detailed "Superbe" specifications.

The Schedule of Votes will be as follows:

A New 8 Months Subscription, 800 Votes—Old, 200 Votes

BILIOUSNESS AND CONSTIPATION BANISHED FOREVER

Prompt Relief—Quick, Permanent

The habit of taking strong purgatives such as Salts, Calomel, etc., should at once be ended, as they do not give relief, but only afford temporary relief by forcing the bowels to move.
Such drastic purges eventually prove injurious and are only justified in extreme cases, and only when the bowels are so constipated that they cannot be moved by other means.

It is sufficient to say that a few boxes of a purely herbal remedy that has now been placed on the market under the name of Laxation Herb Tablets will soon cause you to worry no more about your bowels and stomach, and to feel that they are doing their work without the aid of medicine.

Get a small box today from your druggist and take tonight as directions advise. Every druggist in America will refund your money if dissatisfied, or try it tonight at our expense.
